Memorial Day Weekend, the last day of school, a shorter commute and the rising temperatures can only mean one thing—summer is officially here! Despite how laid back San Antonio can be year round, you can always tell it is summer in San Antonio. People look a little more refreshed and less rushed than usual and most everyone looks forward to a vacation or simply enjoying a little downtime. And, this year, it is a particularly exciting time for our city as we cheer on the San Antonio Spurs in the playoffs. What an all-around great team: great players, both young and slightly less young—I refuse to call them old—and an incredible coach and staff. Their teamwork is outstanding and despite how good they are—they remain humble and act with the class and dignity that the San Antonio Spurs are known for. This organization is the real deal! I know what happens when people make predictions, so all I dare say is—Go Spurs Go!

The beginning of summer also means the Bexar County Women’s Bar is in full swing with activities for our members. We look forward to our retreat in Fredericksburg on June 7 and 8. With more than 50 people pre-registered, it will no doubt be a fun and energetic retreat. Also, planning is well underway for the Bexar County Women’s Bar Foundation’s Autumn Affair scheduled on October 11, at the Witte Museum. If you haven’t already signed up, our committee chairs would love your help planning this fabulous event. As anyone who has helped with planning our signature event before can tell you, it is a great way to get involved, meet new people, and have fun. May this summer be a relaxing, refreshing, and enjoyable one for all of you! See you soon!

At Autumn Affair, BCWBF will present two distinguished female attorneys with the Belva Lockwood Outstanding Lawyer and Outstanding Young Lawyer awards. To that end, we are accepting nominations for these awards. Please submit your written nominations for either award by June 8, 2012 to Carol Jendrzey at Carol.Jendrzey@kci1.com. After the close of nominations, nominees will be contacted directly and asked to complete the application.

Please consider the following guidelines for the nominations:

• The recipients must be current members, in good standing, of the Bexar County Women’s Bar Association.
• Attorneys licensed to practice 7 or more years as of October 10, 2012 will be considered for the Outstanding Lawyer Award.
• Attorneys licensed to practice less than 7 years will be considered for the Outstanding Young Lawyer Award.

In selecting the recipients, the Committee will consider:

• Contributions to the community including charitable and volunteer work, appointed or elected offices.
• Membership and board involvement in community organizations.
• Contributions to improve the status of women in society and in the legal profession.
• Contributions to the legal profession, as well as experience, reputation and standing in the legal community.
• Contributions to the Bexar County Women’s Bar Association and Foundation and its projects.

Because of our desire to honor all women at Autumn Affair who have achieved high honor by their ascent to the judiciary, sitting judges are not eligible for the Belva Lockwood Award. Also, members of the selection committee are ineligible.

Judicial Spotlight: Judge Renée McElhaney
By Tiffanie Clausewitz

Q. You, like many of our successful female attorneys and judges, actually had a “first” career and decided to go to law school while you had children at home. How did that impact your time as a law student and your experience as an “older” baby attorney?

A. Being a public high school teacher for nine years prior to going to law school has added a vibrant texture to the tapestry of background I was able to bring to my legal career. I’ve had to budget my time very carefully and learn to juggle—like all moms. At St. Mary’s and then later at Fulbright and then Cox Smith, I knew that when I was “at work,” I needed to focus and be as efficient as possible to do the best job I could in my role as student and lawyer, and as my children’s mother. Most of all, I guess, was learning that there probably is no “balance” for me—I’m always going to be overloaded and overbooked. But I became comfortable with the rhythm and made sure to savor all the best “moments”—from watching my kids pitch a little league game to arguing before the Texas Supreme Court. Great memories now!

Q. Did you always know you wanted to be a judge? What inspired you to make this decision?

A. At St. Mary’s convocation of the 1990 law school year, Barbara Aldave, then-dean of St. Mary’s Law School, charged my class to consider the legal profession a calling of service, grounded in a tenacious adherence to studying and applying the law. Dean Aldave’s words took root and I eventually became certain that I wanted to inextricably intertwine serving people and serving the law, which is the path of a judge.

Q. Tell us about your history with the Bexar County Women’s Bar and other women’s organizations, and the impact you believe such organizations have on their members and the greater community.

A. BCWB has been pivotal to me. The women lawyers of BCWB have been mentors and dear friends, from Judge Nellermoe under whom I first served as a BCWB Board member; to Patricia Diaz Dennis, who helped me learn how to juggle family and the practice; to Laurie Weiss, Diann Bartek, Pam Huff, and many, many more ladies who have been the closest of friends and integral confidants. All these ladies became “sisters” to me because of BCWB. I learned so much about marketing, organizing, and project management by participating in BCWB programs (especially Bench Brunch). I remember attending my first Bench Brunch in 1990, as a member of the Women’s Law Association. I’ll never forget one Bench Brunch planning meeting where Justice Rose Spector arrived in her white Mercedes—with a huge Rose decal draping over the hood. What a magnificent campaigner; I took lessons from Justice Rose, for sure!! And I will owe Angela Moore forever—she served as Bench Brunch chair the year I was BCWB President, setting a record of raising $110,000 net and, all the while, “sistering” me through my firstborn daughter moving to NYC for college (just in time to experience 9/11). (con’d on page 5)
Community Service Column:
BCWB Service at the CJP Family Law Clinic
By Lorie Blount

A group of BCWB members recently served as volunteer counsel at the Community Justice Program (“CJP”) family law clinic that was held May 8th at the Texas Rio Grande Legal Aid office. The CJP staff extended its sincere thanks to the BCWB for our support of the clinic and the community. Most importantly, the clients seeking legal assistance at the clinic were very appreciative!

BCWB volunteers at the clinic were as follows: Lisa Barkley, Tracie Conner, Rhonda Boyles, Lauren Zettler-Horne, Lorie Blount, Elizabeth Haws Connally, Heidi Helstrom, Diana Cavasos, Heather Tessmer, Lindsay Rose, Justine Daly, and Maurleen Cobb (serving as a family law mentor). Justine Daly was the lucky volunteer who won the spa gift card drawing for BCWB volunteers. Thanks to everyone who supported the Community Justice Program Family Law Clinic last month!

Judicial Spotlight: Judge McElhaney (con’d from p. 4)

That is what my BCWB sisters have been to me—dearest, dearest of friends and amazing professional influences that have enabled me to reach my goal as judge of the 73rd District Court. I profoundly wish the same experiences and friendships for all BCWB members. So, go to a BCWB lunch; make time to join us at the retreat; jump into the Autumn Affair planning committee; mentor a law student. The blessings are more than amazing!

Judge Renée McElhaney presides over the 73rd District Court. After teaching school for nine years, she attended St. Mary’s University School of Law, graduating summa cum laude in 1993. Judge McElhaney then went into private practice, handling a wide range of litigation, first at Fulbright & Jaworski, and then at Cox Smith, as head of the Appellate Practice Group. She was appointed by Governor Perry on December 28, 2009, and took the bench on January 12, 2010. Judge McElhaney has received many awards, including the BCWB’s Belva Lockwood Award, the San Antonio Women’s Chamber of Commerce’s Voice and Vision Award, and the San Antonio Bar Association President’s Award.
The Women and the Law Section is honored to announce Patricia Diaz Dennis is this year’s Sarah T. Hughes Women Lawyers of Achievement Award recipient. Patricia’s outstanding legal career has been an inspiration to women in the legal profession. She has served in roles usually dominated by men, and succeeded every step of the way. Currently, she sits on the World Bank Sanctions Board, the Boards of Directors for Massachusetts Life Insurance Company and National Public Radio and, as a Trustee for the National Housing Partnership Foundation. Most recently, she served as Senior Vice President and Assistant General Counsel of AT&T before retiring in 2008.

Patricia’s legal career has included in-house, governmental and private practice positions. She has served in three federal government positions after being appointed by the President of the United States, including Assistant Secretary of State for Human Rights and Humanitarian Affairs. She has received several gubernatorial appointments as well. In private practice, she worked in prestigious and national law firms, including Sullivan & Cromwell and Jones, Day, Reavis & Pogue. In 1973, when Paul Hastings had 35 lawyers, it hired her as its first woman attorney.

Patricia has not only been a leader in the legal profession, but in the community. She served as the Chair of the Board of the Girl Scouts of the USA. Patricia has worked tirelessly with this group and others encouraging young women, especially Latinas, as she says “to find their voices and use them to make a difference in their own lives and the lives of others.”

Patricia has been recognized with many honors, including being named in April 2008 by Texas Diversity Magazine as one of eight “Most Powerful and Influential Women in Texas”, receiving the magazine’s Glass Ceiling Award. In 2000, the Bexar County Women’s Bar Foundation presented her the Belva Lockwood Outstanding Lawyer Award.

Join us in congratulating Patricia on receiving the Sarah T. Hughes Women Lawyers of Achievement Award at our Annual Section Meeting on Thursday, June 14, 2012 at 1:30 at the George R. Brown Convention Center in Houston.

Women’s Law Association Update
By Alison R. Williams, President, Women’s Law Association

As the spring semester came to an end, WLA members geared up for finals time along with the rest of St. Mary’s University School of Law students. During this time, WLA held officer elections at the end of April. We are excited to announce the new 2012-2013 executive board:

President
Alison R. Williams
Vice President
Sarah Anne Lishman
Secretary
Anietie Akpan
Treasurer
Kim Ford
Appointed Alumni Relations Chair
Elizabeth O. Gutierrez
Appointed Social Chair
Jennifer Zarka

Due to electoral issues and a tie in the special election, a run-off for President Elect will be held in November. The new board is very excited about the upcoming year and will be meeting twice this summer to kick off the official planning for our 2012-2013 calendar!

Following the elections, we held our traditional officer turnover dinner at Paloma Blanca restaurant where officers from both the old and new board enjoyed a delicious meal. This dinner is always an opportunity to exchange necessary documents and information, as well as to reminisce on the wonderful year WLA had and begin preliminary brainstorming for the upcoming year. The outgoing board gave immediate past president Victoria Bongat a gift as a token of appreciation for all of her hard work and the excellent job she did in leading our organization. Thank you to Victoria and the executive board of 2011-2012 for diligently serving and working to ensure that WLA had the successful and enjoyable year that it did!

Finally, WLA would like to congratulate and wish the best of luck to all of the St. Mary’s University School of Law graduates who have now joined the distinguished ranks of our alumni. We are looking forward to what this next year will bring for both our graduates and WLA!

Local Attorney Receives Elder Law Certification

(San Antonio, Texas) May 25, 2012 – The Law Offices of Carol Bertsch is proud to announce that Carol Bertsch, Attorney at Law, has received elder law certification by The National Elder Law Foundation (NELF). This organization has been approved by the American Bar Association to offer certification in this relatively new, but fast growing field in the legal profession. This certification provides a measure of assurance to the San Antonio community that Ms. Bertsch possesses an in-depth working knowledge of the many legal issues that impact the elderly.

Elder law attorneys advise and counsel seniors and their families on how they can best plan for current or future needs in the areas of financial planning, long term care, public benefits, guardianship and other matters of the aging. “As a client advocate, I listen carefully to what my client needs. Then, working together, we can create a solution that is right for them,” says Ms. Bertsch who has been serving the legal needs of seniors in San Antonio and surrounding communities for 15 years.

Ms. Bertsch is a member of the San Antonio Bar Association, National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys, Bexar County Women’s Bar Association and the National Association of Women Business Owners.
